How to get a Covid Pass

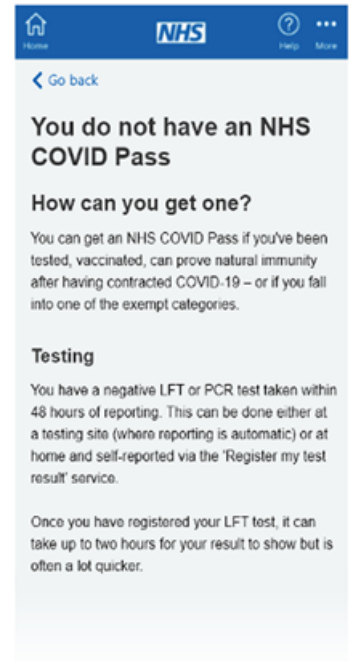

The screenshot shows the NHS Home page. At the top, there is a blue header with the NHS logo and navigation icons for Home, Help, and More. Below the header, the page is titled "Home" and displays the user's Name, Date of birth, and NHS number, each followed by a greyed-out placeholder. A section titled "Popular services" lists several options with right-pointing chevrons: "Get your NHS COVID Pass", "View your messages", "Linked profiles", "View your GP health record", and "Order a repeat prescription".

The screenshot shows the "Get your NHS COVID Pass" page. It features a blue header with the NHS logo and navigation icons. Below the header, there is a "Go back" link. The main heading is "Get your NHS COVID Pass", followed by the instruction: "Use this service to view and share proof of your COVID-19 status." A section titled "Event trials" contains the text: "You may need to prove your COVID-19 status at events trialling the NHS COVID Pass".

The screenshot shows a user's NHS COVID Pass. It features a blue header with the NHS logo and navigation icons. Below the header, there is a "Go back" link. The user's name "Colin" and date of birth are displayed. The pass expiration date and time are shown as "Your NHS COVID Pass expires 19 August 2021 5.30pm". A large QR code is centered on the page. Below the QR code, the unique URL "URN UVCI 01:GB:1623314537204P9YFXL164L" is visible. At the bottom, a green bar with a white checkmark icon and the text "Valid in England" is displayed.

The screenshot shows the "You do not have an NHS COVID Pass" page. It features a blue header with the NHS logo and navigation icons. Below the header, there is a "Go back" link. The main heading is "You do not have an NHS COVID Pass". A section titled "How can you get one?" provides information: "You can get an NHS COVID Pass if you've been tested, vaccinated, can prove natural immunity after having contracted COVID-19 – or if you fall into one of the exempt categories." A section titled "Testing" explains: "You have a negative LFT or PCR test taken within 48 hours of reporting. This can be done either at a testing site (where reporting is automatic) or at home and self-reported via the 'Register my test result' service." At the bottom, it states: "Once you have registered your LFT test, it can take up to two hours for your result to show but is often a lot quicker."
